HUNS IN A BATTLE WITH LABORERS.

TRY TO PREVENT PITTSBURG SEWER-LAYINC.

After a Sharp Battle With Workmen They are Driven Away by the Police—Big Mobs are Gathering and Trouble is Feared—Federal Troops in Ohio.

PITTSBURGH, June 13—Rioting was resumed between the Huns and the sewer of laborers this morning. The police drove the Huns off after a sharp fight but large mobs are now collecting in the streets. One man was badly injured in the encounter today.

PANA, Ill., June 13.—Scarcely had the militia left here when disorderly demonstrations were made. These were quickly quelled. The settlement of the strike question in Ohio and Pennsylvania has had no quieting effect here. The different mobs that have been camping around Pana for several days have concentrated now on Pope's farm, where a big meeting was held yesterday and they decided to march through the business streets of the city. A committee was sent to ask permission of the mayor, but he refused them the privilege. They thereupon expressed their determination to march anyway. If they attempt it there certainly will be trouble, for it will be considered a riotous demonstration by the authorities here. The mines are all running except shaft No. 2 of the Pana Coal company's mines, though there was not as many miners at work this morning as there were yesterday.

STREATOR, Ill., June 13.—Missiles have been thrown at Santa Fe trains when passing through the Hungarian quarter of this city and a United States deputy-marshal last night arrested six Hungarians for the act.

SPRING VALLEY, Ill., June 13.—A telegram from Kewanee to the effect that the men were not working and the receipt of the news from Columbus that a settlement had been effected have temporily changed the plans of the mob that was to move on Kewanee. Every man here condemns the work of the Columbus conference and says they will not go to work at the 10 cents reduction.

UNCLE SAM AROUSED IN OHIO.

Regular Troops May Be Called to Prevent Interference With Trains.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 13.—The dissatisfaction over the compromise agreement at Columbus has caused more apprehension in some quarters, especially railroad circles, than ever. United States Marshal Henry Bohl was summoned here by Judge Taft of the United States Circuit court yesterday and ordered to exhaust his efforts in swearing in deputy marshals to enforce the court's injunction against interfering with the running of trains, especially on the Baltimore & Ohio system. Judge Taft stated that if the marshal could not secure enough deputies the court would immediately call on President Cleveland for government troops.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, June 13.—United States Deputy Marshal George McFarland received instructions last evening to proceed to Navarre, this county, with all the men at his command to guard the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad property.

MARTIN'S FERRY, Ohio, June 13.—At Wheeling Creek considerable trouble was experienced yesterday with drunken miners. Sledge hammers and crowbars were thrown down the hill at the soldiers, and several shots were fired. Gen. Howe ordered out the Second regiment, but no firing was necessary. The miners hereabout refuse to accept 60 cents, as agreed upon at the Columbus conference.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 13.—Some unknown persons fired several shots into the militia camp at Wheeling Creek before daylight yesterday morning. The bullets flew wild and no one was injured. Everything is quiet along the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling road. No trains are running on account of the destruction of the Midvale bridge, and it will require several days to replace the structure. The miners received the news of the settlement in sullen silence. At some points the men declared they would not accept the wages proposed.

NOT ALL MINERS AGREE TO IT.

Thousands Say They Will Not Work Under the Proposd Scale.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 13.—It is doubtful if the alleged settlement of the coal miners' strike is carried out in the Hocking Valley. Advices from Nelsonville, Straitsville, Gloucester, Longstreth, Buchtel, Corning, Carbon Hill, and other points are to the effect that the strikers refuse absolutely to return to work at the 60-cent rate. At this time the result of the attitude of the miners can not be predicted. Last night President McBride talked freely about the situation. He said while the settlement was not all he could wish, it was the best the miners could hope for under the circumstances. They were still the victors of the contest. Said he:

"The miners were starving, industries were paralyzed, and thousands of fellow workmen were being daily thrown out of employment by reason of the coal famine, while the interference with property rights, which, wherever done, was blamed on miners, was losing public sympathy for us." He thought the settlement would be at once ratified all over the district.

President McBride said the miners' officials had decided the agreement should not go into effect until next Monday, though some operators desired to resume this week. He thought inasmuch as the members of the miners' committee had received hundreds of telegrams from their constituents, stating that under no circumstances should the rank and file of the miners consent to a compromise, and the further fact that in many places the miners had been wrought up to a high tension, it would be unwise for any operator to attempt to resume operations until the terms of settlement had been fully explained to the miners.

The proviso relative to the action to be taken if any operators in the district represented fail to pay the price agreed upon means that the strike is to be continued against such operators. The miners who go to work will contribute to a strike fund for their support. Several of the miners' officials express grave doubts as to whether the miners in some localities will accept the new scale. President McBride says if the miners had remained law-abiding they certainly would have gained everything they struck for.

POMEROY, Ohio, June 13.—The news of the Columbus conference is received here with approval by the miners, who stand ready to go to work at the scale formulated.

SULLIVAN MINES TO BE REOPENED.

Indiana Men Disagree as to the Success of the Columbus Settlement.

FARMERSBURG, Ind., June 13.—The miners at Farmersburg went to work yesterday. Those at Shelburn are still idle, but they will return to work within a few hours. The mines at Alum Cave, Jackson Hill, Hyemera, Star City and Curryville will in all probability be started within the next forty-eight hours.

WASHINGTON, Ind., June 13.—The coal miners of this vicinity dislike the Columbus compromise, as it reduces the rate paid for mined coal 10 cents on the ton. No coal has been mined hereabouts since the Cannellburg riot, but everything is quiet. There is some suffering among the families of the miners for the necessities of life.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 13.—The Indiana bituminous coal miners are determined not to go to work at the 60 cents compromise. They use strong terms when they speak of the action of their official representatives in the conference. The operators do not expect all the men to return to work next Monday, but believe they will all be at work a week or ten days later, especially after they receive the statement which John McBride will send to them.

Returning to Work at Peoria.

PEORIA, Ill., June 13.—Newsam Brothers' mine at Kingston started up yesterday under the protection of a force of thirty deputy sheriffs armed with rifles. No resistance was offered and none is expected. A large force of deputies was sent to Reed City last night and will start the mine there.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., June 13.—The miners of the Coal Valley Mining company at Cable have decided to return to work, and operations are expected to be resumed at any time.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 13.—The price for Bloomington fixed by the Columbus agreement will probably be satisfactory to the McLean County company. The manager says if it means net weight, as he assumes it does, it will be about the same as now paid. It is doubtful if it will satisfy the miners unless they can get full time.

STREATOR, Ill., June 13.—The Columbus settlement is a disappointment to the miners here, it being a cut below last year's prices of 7½ cents a ton in the summer and 10 cents a ton in the winter months. A leading operator gives it as his opinion the men will stay out until it be too late to make contracts, and that the entire northern Illinois coal fields will be idle all summer at least.

CENTRALIA, Ill., June 13.—The miners held a meeting yesterday to discuss the compromises. It was determined to fix a rate of 62½ cents, uniform winter and summer rate. This is 6¼ cents more than they were receiving before they went out and the operators here declare they will not return them at better rates than they were receiving at the time the strike was declared, viz.: 56¼ cents. The miners have nearly all signed the agreement with the leaders to hold out until they get the 62½ cents. They struck out of sympathy for others.

Disapprove of the Compromise.

PITTBURG, Pa., June 13.—News of the settlement proposed at Columbus was not received with favor by a majority of the Fourth Pool miners, and it is doubtful whether they will abide by the decision reached. The operators, however, have no doubt the men will return to work.

The miners throughout the district are decided in their condemnation of the national officials because all of the delegates to the Cleveland convention were instructed to hold for the 79-cent rate and no compromise, and they think their delegates were bulldozed in giving the members of the executive committee the right of compromise.

At to-day's session the officials of the United Mine Workers Union will be directed to make an explanation of the settlement in face of the charges made, and if the answer is unsatisfactory all the miners in the two valleys will withdraw from the organization and continue the strike for 79 cents.

RED CAPS IN BELOIT CAUSE A BATTLE.

ACADEMY BOYS DISCOUNT THE "CANE RUSH."

Middle "Preps" Wear Scarlet Head Gear in Defiance of the Graduates and a Scrimmage on the Campus Follows—War Dance Around a Bonfire Ends the Evening's Exercises

BELOIT, June 13—The college academy graduation exercises took place last night at Scoville's hall. The exercises were attended by a large audience, among them many visitors from abroad. Ten members only of the class of thirty-five were permitted the honor of speaking. This event was the occasion of much merry making on the part of the Preps. Early in the evening the middle Preps marched into the auditorium of Scoville hall each wearing a fiery red cap. The academy seniors looked upon this as an insult and in less time than it takes to tell it the two classes were in a lively scrimmage over the red caps. The struggle was short but fierce and many a curly headed middle Prep. was transformed into a long straight haired, sanctimonious looking individual, when the seniors got through with them, the latter triumphantly bearing the red caps to their places near the platform.

After the exercises in the hall, a reception was tendered the graduating class by Prof. Burr at his residence, and here again the middles made life miserable for the seniors with sky rockets, cannon firecrackers, etc. About twelve o'clock it was the seniors turn for a "time" and building a huge bonfire on the campus they celebrated their departure from the academy by indulging in an old fashioned Indian war dance, which they kept up till the "wee sma' hours." They not only kept up the dance, but everyone within several blocks of the scene of the merry-making.

Canada Makes an Apology.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The incident growing out of the tearing down of the United States flag from the United States consulate at St. Thomas, Ont., on the queen's birthday, has been satisfactorily closed by an explanation to the department of state that the perpetrators of the outrage were drunk and irresponsible, and would be properly dealt with.

Pierre (S. D.) Flour Mills Burn.

PIERRE, S. D., June 13.—The Pierre flouring mills burned at midnight last night. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $4,500.

Twelve Hurt in a Collision.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 13.—Two passenger trains on the New York & New England collided near Stillwater last night. The engineers and firemen sprang from their engines and escaped instant death, but the men in the mail cars were badly hurt. In all twelve people were injured.

Cloudburst in Canandaigua, N. Y.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., June 13.—A cloudburst occurred here last night, the rain flooding the streets and gutters and choking the sewers and streams. Cellars all over the town were flooded and pedestrianism without high rubber boots was impossible.

Tile Mills Wrecked at Wilkinson.

WILKINSON, Ind., June 13.—The large tile mills of Smith & Co., just about to be fired, have been wrecked by a natural gas explosion, entailing a loss of more than $41,000.

Kansas Populist Convention.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 13.—The 610 delegates to the populist state convention appeared to be on hand yesterday at the opening session at 11 o'clock. The indications point to the nomination of the entire ticket, with the exception of Lieutenant-Governor Daniels, who is not a candidate, and Secretary of State Osborn, who, it is understood, will decline a renomination, but now expresses a willingness to accept.

May Nominate St. John.

EMPORIA, Kan., June 13.—The prohibition hosts began to gather here yesterday for the state convention, which met at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The attendance is small and very little canvass has been done. Ex Gov. St. John may be nominated if he will accept.

Rhode Island Senator.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 13.—The general assembly voted for United States senator to succeed Senator Aldrich. The senate gave 32 votes for George Peabody Wetmore, of Newport, with five absentees. The house voted 68 for Wetmore, with four absentees. The democratic members were absent.

May Unseat Funston.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—A report in favor of giving Col. H. L. Moore, the democratic contestant, the seat for the second Kansas district now held by Funston, republican, has been made by the subcommittee to the house committee on elections.

Ottumwa Mines Open To-day.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, June 13.—The miners in the districts adjacent to Ottumwa went to work this morning.

COFFINS ARE OUT OF THEIR PRISON.

BANK WRECKERS GET A TASTE OF FREEDOM.

Their Sentence Will Not Be Executed Until the Court of Appeals Has Passed Upon Their Case--Fined $1,000 For Starving His Wife to Death.

CHICAGO, June 11—Justice Harlan, of the Federal court, granted a supersedeas in the case of the Coffin brothers, who are confined in the penitentiary of Michigan City, charged with wrecking the Indianapolis bank. This releases them on bail until their case can be heard in the court of appeals. There is a general belief that the two millionaires will never serve their time.

Erastus Wiman's Trial.

NEW YORK, June 13. — Erastus Wiman's trial was begun yesterday before Justice Ingraham in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. The recital of the crime and the points to be proven in the case as made by Assistant District-Attorney Wellman were formidable and relentless, though his friends still claim he can explain matters satisfactorily.

Escaped with $1,000 Fine.

RUTLAND, Vt., June 13. — Isaac Hanks, an aged miser charged with having caused the death of his wife by denying her sufficient food, has been found guilty by the jury in Salem, N. Y., where he was taken for trial. A recommendation of mercy accompanied the verdict, and the offender, who is said to be worth more than $70,000, was let off on a fine of $1,000 and costs. Hanks is 70 years old.

FIFTY YEAR BONDS PROPOSED.

Plan to Refund the Pacific Road's Debt—Senator Hoar On Tariff.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Congressman Boatner's resolution to inquire into the liability of Pacific railroad stockholders for the debts due the government and to instruct the President to employ special counsel to sue said stockholders if found liable will come up for consideration to-day, by the subcommittee to which it was referred and of which Mr. Boatner is chairman. He issued the call for the meeting yesterday.

The Reilly bill, which is now before the house, provides for a discharge of the road's indebtedness to the government by the issue of 100-year bonds at 2 per cent. The Pacific railroads committee has decided to report the bill back amended to provide for 50-year 3 per cent bonds.

SENATOR HOAR ON THE TARIFF.

Duty on Optical Instruments Discussed in the Senate Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Hoar spoke yesterday in the course of the tariff debate. At the opening of the session Senator Chandler took the floor in support of his resolution calling on the secretary of the treasury for all information in his possession regarding the extent to which the "padrone" system prevails. Mr. Chandler expressed the opinion that one of the most potent agencies in the annihilation of the padrone system would be the enlistment of a sentiment adverse to it among the better and wealthier classes of Italians. The resolution was then adopted.

Several bills of minor importance were passed, and the consideration of schedule K, wool and manufactures of wool, of the tariff bill was then taken up.

Senator Peffer offered an amendment transferring wool, hair of the camel, goat, alpaca and other like animals, on the free list in the bill, to the dutiable list, restoring the McKinley bill classification, but scaling down the rates practically one-half.

Under an agreement made Monday the senate then went back to paragraph 98, imposing a duty of 40 per cent on spectacles, goggles, opera glasses and other optical instruments, which was passed over at the request of Senator Hoar. Senator Hoar moved to increase the rate to 60 per cent (the present rate) and took the floor in advocacy of his amendment.

Mr. Quay, who has been quiescent for five weeks, resumed the delivery of his speech which has already occupied four days, and after speaking four hours his manuscript seemed unappreciably diminished. Then he yielded from sheer exhaustion, and Messrs. Pettigrew (N. D.), Power (Mont.) and Peffer made speeches against free wool.

During a lull in the debate Mr. Mitchell of Oregon moved to lay the tariff bill on the table. The motion, however, was without special significance and was defeated by a strict party vote.

Mr. Chapman, the Wall street broker, who refused to answer questions, was reported as contumacious to the senate by the sugar investigation committee and a resolution was introduced to bring him to the bar of the senate for contempt. At 6 o'clock the senate adjourned.

DEFECT IN CONTRACT LABOR LAW.

Difficult to Connect the Alien Laborer with the Employer.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—This week has been decided upon by the house committee on immigration for its visit to Ellis Island. Chairman Geissenhainer was at Ellis Island Saturday and Sunday, and saw the landing and inspection of 400 arrivals from Russia and 130 from Ireland. Most of these went west, some to California and not a few were tagged through to their friends. Speaking of the intended trip Representative Geissenhainer said.

"There is one defect in the present law the committee desires to remedy. We can not connect the contract laborer with the employer. He is sent back home, and then your witness is gone. The employer rather than the laborer is the one who should be punished for these violations of the law. Another question which the committee hardly considers within its province to investigate, but which congress should be enlightened upon, is whether the labor troubles of recent years (those of which the Homestead strike may be taken as the best example) are due to contract labor or to natural causes. If contract labor is responsible we know what to do. If they arise from natural causes every case should have its own remedy."

NEW FREE COINAGE BILL.

Mr. Squire of Washington Presents Another of the Flat Measures.

WASHINGTON, June 13. — Senator Squire of Washington yesterday introduced a bill for the free coinage of silver. It provides that the owner of silver bullion may deposit it at the mints, receiving in payment standard silver dollars equal to the value of the bullion on the day of deposit, the difference to be retained by the government as seigniorage as a reserve fund, and used by secretary of the treasury in maintaining the parity of silver dollars. The coinage of silver dollars shall not exceed 4,000,000 each month. When the aggregate amount of money in the country reaches $10 per capita, further silver coinage shall be discontinued and shall be resumed when it falls below that figure. Provision is made for coining silver half dollars of the present size and maintaining their parity in the same manner as other silver. They also are made legal tender.

The house committee on banking and currency concluded to choose a subcommittee of five next Friday by the unusual method of ballot to prepare another currency bill. The committee will report its measure to the house not later than June 26. It may prove that this will be a scheme for a national currency.

Havemeyer Tells a Sugar Story.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—H. O. Havemeyer, president of the American sugar refinery, appeared before the investigating committee yesterday to give his testimony. Mr. Havemeyer said he had talked with several senators, urging proper protection of the refining interests, among them Senators Hill, Gorman and Smith. The two latter, he said, had promised to help him, but Senator Hill had given him no satisfaction at all. Mr. Havemeyer denied all knowledge of speculation in sugar stocks by United States senators. He denied that he had ever talked with President Cleveland on the subject.

Interstate Commerce Conference.

WASHINGTON, June 13. — To-day there will assemble in this city representatives of various bodies having an interest in "the harmonizing of state and federal legislation in the regulation of common carriers." The committee representing the railroad commissioners is Allen Ford of Georgia, Walter McLaurin of Mississippi, J. H. Pardock of Illinois, B. B. Stevens of North Dakota and S. R. Billings of Michigan.

PRESIDENT CONTINUES ILL.

His Ailment Does Not Yield to Treatment as Rapidly as was Expected.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—President Cleveland's ailment has not yielded to treatment as rapidly as was expected. Dr. O'Reilly recommends that he keep as quiet as possible and avoid all physical exertion. This precaution was all the more prudent in view of the very warm and oppressive weather. Consequently the President kept to his room and did not undertake to receive any visitors or disturb himself until the hour set for the meeting of the cabinet, when he made his appearance in his office. The doctor expresses the opinion that his patient will be about in a day or two if he keeps quiet.

No Agreement at Altoona.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 13.—The miners made a proposition to split the difference and accept 40 cents net ton, instead of 40 cents gross ton. Mr. Berwind, for the operators, refused to entertain the proposition.

ROCK COUNTY MAN UP FOR GOVERNOR.

PROHIBITIONISTS FAVOR CAPTAIN J. F. CLEGHORN.

Convention Opens Today and Before it Closes the Clinton Man is Likely to Be Put at the Head of the Prohibition Ticket—He Hasn't Declined.

MILWAUKEE, June 13.—A Rock county man may head the prohibition state ticket this year. The state convention of the party began today and will last until Thursday night. The convention holds two sessions a day, but it is not expected that nominations will be reached before tomorrow. There are several names mentioned as possible nominees at the head of the ticket, but the one that has the largest following is Captain J. F. Cleghorn, of Clinton. Two years ago Captain Cleghorn declined the nomination but he has not done so this year so far as is known. This evening a mass meeting at the hall will be addressed by Samuel Dickie, chairman of the National prohibition party. His subject will be the Prohibition question.

Delegates Chosen to the Denver Meeting—Thurston on Silver.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 13.—Fifteen hundred delegates, representing a membership of 25,000 in the state, made up an enthusiastic convention of republican league clubs in session in this city yesterday. Thirty delegates were elected to the national convention at Denver, and F. W. Collins of this city was elected president of the state league for the ensuing year. The speeches of the day were made by John M. Thurston of Omaha and Congressman Grosvenor of Ohio, while at the evening meeting Congressmen Meiklejohn and Hainer of this state spoke in the open air to fully 15,000 people.

Resolutions were adopted reaffirming allegiance to the republican party and its policy as outlined in the last national convention.

John M. Thurston in his speech declared in favor of the coinage of American silver with gold upon a parity that would make both moneys of equal purchasing and debt-paying powers. He favored the restriction of foreign bullion from American mints.

CHANGES IN TARIFF BILL.

Modifications of the Income Tax Scheme Now Under Consideration.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—There is some prospect of important changes in the internal revenue part of the tariff bill, and of further modifications of the income tax feature. The finance committee has been considering a suggestion looking to the dropping of all the purely administrative part of the bill, which would result in leaving the present administrative law on the statute books. The committee is also undecided what if any changes will be made in the income tax, but is considering propositions for its modification which it is believed will make the bill acceptable in this respect to democratic senators who oppose the tax. Details are difficult to obtain, but it is understood that if any changes are made there will be a shorter limit of time for the bill to remain in effect.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 13.—Col. A. G. Weissert, past commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., met with a serious accident at his residence last evening. In stepping from a bathtub his feet slipped and he fell heavily to the floor. The fall resulted in the dislocation of one shoulder and several painful bruises on the body. Col. Weissert suffers almost constantly from an open wound received during the war, as a result of which he is not sure of foot.

IN CLASS COLORS THEY MAKE MERRY.

GARBED IN YELLOW AND WHITE SENIORS CELEBRATE.

Prophecy, Poetry and History are Mingled With Clever Touch—German and Latin Songs and Orations Also Introdnced—The Opera House Crowded to the Doors.

Yellow and white predominated on the opera house stage last night. In class colors the seniors were arrayed—the girls in yellow empress gowns, with wide white sashes and caps with sashes to match, the boys in white duck suits, yellow sashes, hats and tassels. The chairs were decorated with white and yellow and white and yellow were the flowers. Frank W. Vankirk, president of the class, presented the various members and after a well-rendered mandolin duet by Harry S. Haggart and Volney Atwood, he delivered a brief address of welcome. The teachers, he insisted, should not be blamed for what happened during the evening. Their responsibility was confined to the programme Thursday afternoon. The only thing he could promise for the exercises just begun was that nobody who had any serious intentions would be allowed to take part.

How the Programme Ran

Miss Birdie Stoller justified the president's statement by her number "The Jesters." "The Picture Gallery" by Winifred R. Jerome; "Fragments af Class History" by Clara Belle Paul, and a brief but very enjoyable banjo solo by John F. Day followed. Volney D. Atwood delved deeper and gave a German oration on "Bismarck" that drew forth cheers and a bouquet of weinerwursts. A German song composed by Miss Eva Knoff was sung by the class, as a delicate tribute to the speaker's eloquence.

Many clever points were scored on members of the class by Miss Nora Lilian Bull in her "Class Rhymes," and by Miss Nettie May Kent and Miss Louise Shearer as class prophetess and class sibyl. A production that told of much effort was Miss Ada R. Fenton's Latin oration—"A Protest."

Many Clever Numbers.

Miss Cora Anderson's "June Song" was so well received that she was obliged to appear again, her second selection being "Sweet-heart." Miss Anderson sang to Mrs. C. B. Conrad's accompaniment, her voice being greatly admired, Miss May Valentine, with an air of great condecension, read a lesson to the juniors. Sobs and moans came from this forlorn class as it heard its shortcomings listed. There was a change when Edward Enright arose to respond to the address, his answer covering the ground so thoroughly that he was called before the curtain by enthusiastic applause.

A clever adaptation of the witch scene from Macbeth, arranged by Miss Ada Fenton, was presented by Misses Jennie M. Baker, Helen E. Clark and Nellie McKewan. A class song set to many tunes and full of local hits closed the exercises. Harry Shawvan was the composer, but the entire class joined in the melody.

The size of the audience was a surprise to Professor Mayne, who began to think Monday night that Janesville people wouldn't turn out for school entertainments. Every seat was full and the standing room was occupied clear out to the ticket office. There was but one verdict—class day was a success.

Other Commencement Doings.

Tonight comes the senior party at the Armory and tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 the commencement exercises proper will take place. At this time some members of the board of education will address the class and the diplomas will be received by the graduates.

Orations will be delivered by John F, Day, Harry W. McNamara, Harry S. Haggart, Clarehce W. Rowe, Jesse Belle Davey, Minnie Iola Davey, Mary L. Hadden, Harriet McCulloch, Gertrude E. Stoddard. Cora L. Anderson will recite the class poem.

The speakers on this occasion include all who were not represented on the class day programme.

Alumni Will Meet on Friday.

The exercises of alumni day will be full of interest to all high school gradnates. The annual business meeting of the Alumni Association will be held in the high school room, Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Alumni of '94 are cordially invited to attend, and also to join the association. The following reception committee will welcome all membees of the association and invited guests to the reception Friday evening at Columbia hall: Messrs. and Mesdames H. Menzies, C. S. Jackman. M. G. Jeffris, S. C. Burnham, V. Richardson, T. Nolan. Misses Mellie Bowles, Carrie Zeininger, Jennie Rowe.

MATCH RACES AT THE DRIVING PARK

Local Horsemen Testing the Speed Of Their Fast Animals.

Next week is race week and already the "hossmen" begin to sniff the air. John W. Richardson, Paul Gherke and Mike McCue sniffed the other day. Then they got "sporty" and put up five dollars each and agreed to drive a mile dash the winner to take the purses. They all laughed at Gherke at first but when Paul finished one of his competitors was in the home stretch turn and the other was at the distance flag. Gherke stowed the fifteen dollars in his clothes and then there appeared upon the scene Edward Phillips. Mr. Phillps had a horse himself and soon he and Mr. Gherke had fixed up a match race best two in three half mile heats for $10 a side, the winner to take the whole thing. The race will come off at the driving park next Saturday afternoon.

W. G. COLLINS IN A SMASH-UP

General Superintendent of the C. M. & St. P. Mixed Up in a Wreck

General Superintendent W. G. Collins of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, narrowly escaped from a railway accident yesterday afternoon near Whitewater. The superintendent with his private car was passing over the road on a tour of observation. Near Whitewater, when the special was bowling along at a high rate of speed the superintendent and his car were thrown over into the ditch. By some lucky chance the car remained right side up, sustained very little damage, and no one on board was injured. The accident detained the evening west bound trains about one hour. Superintendent Collins arrived in Janesville an hour behind time, and took his supper and breakfast at the Grand.

HARD TIMES JUSTIFY SUICIDE.

John Brown Prophesies and Moralizes Upon the Administration.

"Why did that man at the Hotel Myers try to commit suicide?" asked John Brown of a Gazette man.

"Nobody knows."

"Well, who can blame him in these democratic times; that's what we will all have to do if this thing keeps up," and thereupan John spat upon his palm and went to work.

The frosts did not do much damage here.

A Curious Freak of Lightning.

The old adage that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place," has often been disproved. Here is an instance to point: In the summer of 1884 the farmhouse of Henry Axtell, in Chemung county, New York, was struck by lightning three times in one day. First it split the chimney from top to bottom, ruined stove and pipe and bored several large holes in the floor. An hour later a "bolt" struck the same house and tore a milk bench, upon which several cans of milk were setting, all to pieces. The same evening a third flash entered the roof and tore the legs from a bedstead.

Born, Not Made

Weak by imprudence, are many stomachs. Puny people have invariably weak digestion. The robust as a rule eat heartily and assimilate their food. A naturally weak stomach, or one that has become, although not so originally, derives needful aid from this thorough stomachic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The restoration of vigor to the delicate is the prompt effect of a resource to this professionally sanctioned and universally esteemed promoter of health. Nervousness—a symptom of chronic indigestion—is overcome by it. So are liver complaint and constipation. Incipient rheumatism and kidney trouble it defeats thoroughly, and it constitutes an efficient defense against malaria. But in order that the full benefit dervivable from its use should be availagle of, it should not be used in a haphazard way, but continually. The same suggestion holds good of all standard remedies.

RELIEF EXPEDITION TO AURORA LAND.

Henry G. Bryant, the Insatiate Explorer, to Sail for the Icy North—Expects to Return with Peary Before Christmas.

THE ANNOUNCEment was made at the monthly meeting of the Philadelphia Geographical club recently that an expedition, to be known as the Peary Auxiliary expedition, will soon sail from New York for Newfoundland. The party will consist of seven persons. Lieut. Peary, before leaving Philadelphia, deposited funds and instructions with Prof. Angelo Heilprin covering this relief project.

The leader of the party will be Henry G. Bryant. They expect to reach St. Johns, Newfoundland, in time to leave that port in the Falcon, which they will there find awaiting them, on July 4. The first stop will be at Godhavn, on what is called Diska island, in North Greenland. This is a Danish settlement, and recognition of the expedition by the officials at that point will be secured through the state department at Washington.

Continuing north, Melville bay will be crossed as quickly as the condition of the ice will permit, and Cape York visited. From here the run will be direct to Peary headquarters at Boudoin bay, in Inglefield gulf, in latitude 77 degrees 43 minutes north. They calculate to reach this harbor by July 25.

Lieut. Peary and his companions are not expected to return to this point from their long sledge trip through the ice-floes until the last of August. In the meantime the Falcon will be employed in original research. The Baffin bay shore of Ellesmere land will be explored for some trace of the young Swedish explorers Bjorling and Kallstenius, whose schooner was wrecked on Carey Islands in the summer of 1892, and who left a message on these islands, which was recovered by a Scotch whaler in October, 1893, stating that they proposed to seek refuge among the Eskimos of Ellesmere land.

Jones' Sound will also be explored for a greater distance than has yet been attempted, and the effort made to map out the 300 miles of unknown coast-line forming the northeast shore of Jones' sound and the western border of Ellesmere land. This triangular area of 100,000 square miles, known as Ellesmere land, is one of the few large territories the outlines of which have not yet been determined. A tribe of Eskimos are said to inhabit this land who have not so far come in contact with explorers.

The Falcon will be back and expects to reach Philadelphia with the Peary party before Christmas. Dr. Axel Ohlin, a Swedish naturalist, representing the friends of Bjorling and Kallstenius, will accompany the Auxiliary expedition.

Henry G. Bryant, was born in Allegheny, Pennsylvania, on November 7, 1859. He is the son of Walter Bryant, a well-known Pittsburg merchant. Young Mr. Bryant graduated from Princeton college in 1883, and after studying law in the office of Hon. Robert N. Wilson of Philadelphia, graduated from the law department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1886.

He has been an insatiate traveler. In 1884 and 1886 he visited the northern countries of Africa. Subsequently he employed much of his time in hunting trips to the Rocky mountains. In 1891, with Prof. C. A. Kevaston, he started north to Labrador, penetrated a distance of 350 miles inland from the coast, reached the Grand Falls after many privations and hardships, and found their height to be 316 feet.

Mr. Bryant was second in command of the Peary relief expedition sent out by the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Science in 1892, under the leadership of Angelo Heilprin. Upon his return from his trip Mr. Bryant published a volume on Labrador. He is now secretary of the Geographical club of Philadelphia.

A Misleading Statement.

Until we evolute to the state where we can perform miracles, or can take on the conditions and peculiarities of the lobster, we can not expect to have any of our lost members, organs or faculties reproduced and made as good as new. The doctor who would take the care of a person having suffered amputation and declare that he could restore the limb would be hooted out of a respectable community. So the practitioner who tells the patient that his medicine and treatment will restore wasted lungs and bring the tissues back to their original state professes what he can not carry out and is entirely unworthy of belief.

A NOBLE GIFT

PLACED IN A DAUGHTER'S HANDS

In Order That a Life's Work May Be Perpetuated.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

It was an eventful day.

One of the noblest women of the age felt the weight of years upon her.

Her whole life had been given to one grand work, and her name was known throughout the civilized world.

Before her was a younger woman, and they were seated in the great "record room," where were stored many women's stories of sorrow and joy.

Letters by the thousands, together with great books of record, containing the important points of advice and treatment in special cases, were all about them.

The elder woman turned over the leaves and read:—

"I was sorely afflicted with chronic inflammation of the womb I am now well."

Turning over another page she read:—

"They said I was consumptive, and sent me away But you opened my eyes to the truth, and through you I am well."

Another page and:—

". . . Your remedy came to me with hope, then the truth dawned upon me. You saved my life, and I bless you continually."

Then the book was closed and placed in the hands of the younger woman.

"These are the records of my victories over the peculiar diseases of women. They give the history of each case, and how it was treated.

"I am growing old. Some day I must give up the effort, and I bequeath to you my life work for the physical salvation of women. Carry it forward that all may be cured."

The elder woman was Lydia E. Pinkham. The younger was her daughter, Mrs. Charles H. Pinkham, the one woman fully equipped to carry out the requirements of this noble legacy, not only by natural endowments, but from her knowledge through constant study and years of experience in assisting her mother in her voluminous correspondence and personal treatment of woman's diseases.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will redeem women from the fearful consequences of all diseases of the womb. All druggists have it for you.

AS SEEN BY JERE MURPHY.

Speaking once more of innocuous desuetude, how does the Chicago platform strike Grover Cleveland for the original package trade?

The governor of Indiana is attracting very widespread commendation by respecting his oath of office and advocating the enforcement of law.

No party in any state ever had so many good men as has the Wisconsin democracy who positively would not accept a nomination for governor.

With Governor Altgeld attending commencement exercises the sweet girl graduates will perhaps sacrifice custom to propriety sufficiently to tie their essays with bright red ribbons instead of pink ones.

An eastern girl, heiress to $20,000,000, has married an American citizen when she might easily have wedded a foreign nobleman or bought a seat in the highest legislative branch of the sugar trust. That's what we call true Americanism.

A Janesville dispatch to the Chicago Times saying that the young democrats of Rock and Dane counties have determined to have General Joe Doe present Secretary Cunningham's name to the state convention is calculated to emphasize Secretary Cunningham's averseness to being a candidate for governor this evening.—Madison Journal.

DANVILLE MEN WILL STAY OUT.

Miners at Centralia, Streator and Minonk Repudiate the Settlement.

DANVILLE, Ill., June 13.—President Dietson of the United Mine workers of the Danville field, when asked what effect the Columbus settlement would have here, said: "None whatever. Our demands were made at East St. Louis and have not been accepted. Until they are we will stay out." Mr. Shouse, delegate to East St. Louis, said that in his opinion the strike in the Danville field would not be settled this summer. The coal operators here, however, speak hopefully of the situation and think the backbone of the strike has been broken.

Fierce Fire at Sioux City.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, June 13.—The entire fire department fought desperately for two hours yesterday to prevent the destruction of the Anglo-American Packing company's plant and contents, valued at $250,000. The fire started across the railroad tracks and within forty feet of the main building, in the company's cooper shop, with the wind blowing toward the building. The cooper shop, blacksmith shop, a storehouse and a number of stock sheds were burned. The main building caught fire several times, but the fire did not get headway. Several firemen were overcome by heat. Loss, $5,000; insured.

GEORGE FORD, THE SCRATCH MAN, HAD A FALL.

In Spite of That He Tied for the Time Prize—Frank Cox's Body Sent to Indiana—Jauesville People at Kemper Hall Four Boys Fined for Throwing Eggs.

THERE were all sorts of games and contests at the A. O. U. W. picnic this afternoon. The band played and lemonade flowed like Captain Alex. Buchholz' biggest spring. But none of these things diverted attention from the road race from the post office to Crystal Springs park. George W. Ford was the scratch man, Frank Ranous having four minutes start, Ned Whiton two minutes, and Charles Tallman three and a half minutes. Ford and Whiton made the run in 23 minutes although Ford fell off his wheel and bent one pedal. Ranous' time was 24 minutes and Tallman's 25:30. The prizes went as follows: Frank Ranous, first prize, five dollar pair of shoes, Becker & Woodruff; Ned Whiton, second prize, tapestry rocker, Frank D. Kimball; Charles Tallman, third prize, sweater, J. D. Holmes. The time prizes were: First, solid gold scarf pin, A. F. FOUR champions fished at Indian Ford yesterday. C. B. Withington and John Grubb were pitted against Con McDonald and Frank Davidson and the mortality among the fish was something fearful.

PRUDENT people provide prudential policies. The public generally and policy holders in the Prudential Insurance Co., of America, will no doubt be interested in the following from the Middletown Daily Times of New York, 31st May. "Mr. M. J. Dunham has taken the assistant superintendency at Janesville, Wis. He has been acting in the same capacity here, securing the Orange County prize of $100 for making the best collections and obtaining the largest number of policies.' The "Prudential" was introduced and carried here by Mr. Lewis F. Grant from the Milwaukee district some ten months since. The appreciation of this county's policies in Janesville has been such that a new Wisconsin district has been created with this city as a center. Offices are now being opened at 15 West Milwaukee street, opposite the post office, where all information relative to this old line company's policies can be obtained. Dr. Hugh Menzies has been appointed local medical examner. A competent staff of agents will shortly be in the field and policy holders will receive calls as usual from Agent Lewis F. Grant.

THE cackling has pretty near stopped. We are still selling genuine Koechlin French sateens, the 25 cent quality, look like silk, have a rich finish, and the patterns are beautiful. We are selling these exquisite sateens at the lowest figure ever known for such dreams of lovliness in style and quality at 11 cents. Competitors must acknowledge their defeat or else come down to our price, 11 cents. We are selling the 12½ cent kind for 7¾ cents. The Big Store, J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

WE are much obliged to the party who is trying to advertise our "seven button wonder" and we wish to say that we are the parents and grandparents of this wonderful prodigy, and it is no more relation to the shoe he is trying to palm off on you than it is to Adam's off ox. We originate; never imitate. Brown Bros. & Lincoln.

A LONG story about sateens that certain competitors are trying to make an intelligent consumer swallow in order to get 12½ cents for the same quality that we sell at 11 cents will hardly go down. Eleven cents is our figure for Koechlin's genuine French sateens, all up-to-date in style. The Big Store, J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

"DYNAMITING" DEAD MEN A TRADE

Frank Cox's Body the Fourteenth That J. F. Ford Has Raised.

J. F. Ford says the reward for finding Cox's body belongs to him and his brother. They fired $8 worth of dynamite and after the last shot the body came to the top.

"This is the fourteenth body I have taken out of the water with dynamite," said Ford this morning. "They telegraphed to me to come down in Ohio last summer and I got two bodies. I got three more in Stillwater and brought up four in Lake Erie."

Ford is a carpenter and has been working for J. T. Wilcox since he came to the city about one year ago.

Cooling Baths on Hot Days.

The humorous suggestion of a witty friend of the writer; to the effect that the Turkish bath would be more popular these excessively warm days if the proprietors of the purifying establishments would give cool baths instead of hot ones, is not far from the actuality of the service rendered. While the bath itself is not a cool one by any means, the effect produced is gratefully refreshing coolness of the bather's entire organism.

To keep cool and comfortable in hot weather ought not to be difficult to one who will study to understand the physiological reasons for sweating.

We now suffer, swelter and all but suffocate in torture from heat, simply because our thick skins are impervious to the elimination of perspiration.

Either the pores have become much constricted from sheer inaction, or else they are clogged up or nearly closed from the amount of surface deposits, possibly of effete, particles of worn out tissue discharged in the perspiration, so that it is impossible to sweat in a full, free unimpeded flow of volume.

The waste fluids drained through the pores of the skin—the sewers of the body—from the internal tract, supply a valuable subsidiary office in the function of transpiration, or sweating, in aiding nature to regulate the temperature of the body.

By means of the copious evaporation of moisture from the pores, deposited upon the surface, there is imparted a degree of coolness which at once lowers and subsequently maintains a more equable temperature throughout.

It is to this peculiar function man owes his ready adaptability to the extremes of temperature, and his powers of physical endurance in all the hot climates of the globe. The Turkish bath effectually assists nature by more widely opening the sluiceways to the freer elimination of the fluids. This explains how it is easily possible to secure a delicious sense of relief and a delightfully luxurious coolness even upon the hottest day with the aid of the hot air bath. The Norris baths are the best in southern Wisconsin.

JOHN MARTIN'S BOND RECEIVED

Sureties Did Not Sign the Affidavit, and the Committee Are in Doubt.

The bond of Contractor John Martin was received by City Clerk Bates this forenoon by registered letter from Oshkosh. The bond is being carefully examined by the committee before being accepted.

Facts About Strawberries.

Strawberries put up now while they are so large and fine will keep much better and look nicer than later in the season. Each time a patch has been gone over smaller and softer berries must be picked to get any. The large berries always ripen first. Today and tomorrow's pick will give us from 100 to 200 cases of beautiful fruit grown within two miles of this city. The price will be several cents less in case lots than it costs now. Put up your berries now while the fruit is fine and you will have better luck. Grubb Bros.

A Clearing Sale.

so impressive and grand, sending its torrents to the depths below and on through the whirlpool where wild waves lash each other in the fierce combat is the greatest of nature's wonders. Yet there is another picture of this weird cataract—a picture which horrifies the mind of him who would observe. Many there are whose mind has lost its light of reason and whose body has been thrown to the mercy of this gigantic waterfall. With heartfelt mercy we shudder for the poor unfortunates, yet in earlier years it was in their own hands to prolong life and reason The catalogue is full of nervous diseases caused by a diseased stomach, and one who would be sure of a sound body and a sound mind should look well after this organ. THE FLAGELLANTS AND THEIR RITES.

HOLY WEEK WITH NEW MEXICAN PENITENTS.

Scenes Terrible to Witness—Poor Fanatics Scourged and Left Bleeding by Frenzied Religionists—Not a Word of Complaint Do They Utter.

FOR TWO MONTHS or more I had been in diligent correspondence with the Americans of New Mexico in search of some definite information regarding the services of that most fanatical of all secret orders, the Penitentes. Scant success rewarded my efforts.

It was therefore with strong doubts as to the ultimate success of our expedition that our little party of four, two ladies and two men, left Denver on Tuesday morning of holy week for the "Land of Poco Tiempo." Wednesday noon found us at the forlorn station of Tries Piedras, with the wind blowing hard and bitterly cold. However, full of confidence in the efficacy of our multitudinous ulsters, mackintoshes, sealskins and steamer rugs we climbed into the open wagon which there awaited us for our thirty-five-mile drive across the open prairie to the little town of Taos. Six hours were consumed in this drive, and every moment the wind blew more and more fiercely, causing suffering which before the end came had become simply exquisite.

Taos and its immediate neighborhood enjoys a population of probably twelve hundred Mexicans and but six Americans. One of these latter, a physician, had been my correspondent, and shortly after our arrival he called on us in person, greeting us with an air of hospitality and freedom which seemed thoroughly in accord with his huge frame. A native of New York city, and a graduate of one of its best medical colleges, he drifted to Taos some four years ago, and since then has risen to high favor with all the Mexicans for miles around, by reason of his ability as a physician and surgeon and an intense personal magnetism. From him we learned that in all probability we would be able to see the Penitents at their best on the following day by driving to the Ranchos de Taos, four miles away. Accordingly, the next afternoon we started out, accompanied by the doctor, a civil engineer, graduate of Lehigh unversity, and a mining man from Montana.

The road to Ranchos de Taos led along the foot-hills of the Sange de Cristo range, until, climbing a steep hill from a little settlement of most ancient-looking adobes, we came to the top of the mesa. Here a most unexpected view met our eyes. About four hundred Mexicans, men, women, and children, were drawn in a straight line, extending from a small adobe hut at one end of the field to a large cross standing about a quarter of a mile away. Scowls and angry glances were directed at us from all quarters as we drove along seeking a point of vantage, and calls to turn back were sent after us as we drove beyond the line which they had formed. We could not approach the line of march closer than 125 feet, and here we halted our horses to await developments. Not an American was to be seen outside of our wagon, and the fact that our presence there was most unexpected and unwelcome was plainly indicated by the gathering together and low-toned consultations which immediately took place among the natives.

Within a few minutes a small band of men was seen to emerge from the adobe hut, headed by one carrying a crucifix upright before him. Directly behind him came another, playing a weird and solemn tune on a piccolo; and following them were six others chanting. A short distance after the chanters came two men clad only in white cotton drawers, with black bags placed over their heads, and bound about the forehead with red bandannas. Streams of blood were gushing down their backs, where deep cuts had been made with pieces of flint or glass. The day was cold, and the exposure to the wind of the chill March day would in itself under ordinary circumstances have been brutal punishment to most mortals. The field was covered with a rank growth of thorn-cactus, sage-brush and stones and these blindfolded men must have suffered untold agony as their bare feet were pierced and bruised at every step. Halting until the line had closed up, the leader then started again at a slow pace, and the two men who were stripped to the waist commenced to apply to their backs fierce blows with the cactus whips which they carried in their hands. At every other step the whip was brought first over one shoulder, then over the other, and at every blow sank deeper and deeper into their already torn and bleeding bodies. So sharp were these needlelike "disciplinas" that it was only by a strong effort that they could be wrenched from out their bed of flesh. Not a murmur nor a sound, however, escaped from the lips of the flagellants as they walked along in their slow and terrible march. Frequent stops were made, during which the blows fell even more rapidly, till it seemed an eternity before the cross at the other end of the field was reached. We estimated that at least 500 of these self-inflicted blows were administered in this journey, and not in a single instance could we discover any falling off in their severity. Arriving finally at the cross, the entire party fell on their knees and continued their mournful chant, while the two scourgers, as though their endurance had not yet been fully tested, commenced to move around in a wide circle about the cross, still on their knees, and still applying this awful knout. When they had completed this, the line of march was again resumed, and as the procession passed, the on-lookers involuntarily closed up slightly to obtain a nearer view. Weak and exhausted by this time, but still bringing that terrible whip to fall on their quivering and bleeding backs, they repassed us at the same slow and painful walk. We were then very close, but it was impossible to use our camera at this range, as the Mexicans were all around and about us. So terrible had been the punishment administered, and so sharp and knifelike were the whips, that the entire covering of flesh had been torn off, leaving the bones of the ribs exposed to full view.

Had this punishment been administered as a penalty for crime, our whole nature must have revolted, and the victim could never summon sufficient nerve to stand it, but so strong a hold has religious enthusiasm upon this poor, benighted, superstitious people, that an unnatural fortitude enabled them to bear it uncomplainingly, and this fact made it possible for us to witness it with less repugnance.

As soon as this party had entered the doors of the morada, or Penitente house of worship, another and much larger one started on the same pilgrimage. In this second party, immediately following the chanters, came two men stripped and masked like the others, but bearing on their shoulders high crosses about fifteen feet in length, made of rough timbers twelve inches in diameter, weighing, I should judge, between 300 and 400 pounds. As this procession started, at the same pace adopted by the first, two men armed with whips took their places behind the cross-bearers and at every step applied vicious blows upon the naked backs of the men in front. Following them came a party of eight flagellants, and behind them about a dozen rough, uncouth, unshaven Penitentes, carrying in their hands and elevated in front of them primitive and uncouth figures of all the saints in the litany. Again the cruel blows resounded across the silent field, for not a sound was heard save the occasional chant. Every head was uncovered, and the aspect of the spectators during the passing of the procession was most reverential. All the way to that far-off cross the former scene was repeated, and upon the return of this party we tried to perpetuate the picture upon the films. The distance, however, was too great to do it full justice. In every case the blood flowed in torrents down the backs of the flageliants, staining the drawers to the ground and leaving the subjects of this terrible sacrifice so weak they were hardly able to complete the journey.

We had seen enough, and drove back to Taos, trying hard to fight against the feeling of depression which fell upon our whole party.

"You don't need the key, ma. I can reach down through the transom and open the door from the inside."

HARPER'S HISTORY OF THE WAR

Harper's Pictorial History is universally recognized as the best history of the war yet published. This superb work has never been sold for less than $16 to $30. It has been sold only by subscription and but a very few men have been able to buy it.

The pages are the same size as Harper's Weekly and the work contains all the illustrations appearing in that great paper during the war. The work was edited by Richard Grant White and Henry M. Alden and is authentic, complete and reliable.

We have made arrangements whereby we can furnish Gazette subscribers with this splendid history of twenty-six parts at ten cents a part. These twenty-six parts will contain over one thousand war pictures and will make two handsome volumes when bound.

Many official documents of priceless historic value are quoted in full in the copious foot notes, such for instance as Lincoln's inauguration speeches, articles of federation of the early states, constitution of the United States, ordinance of secession, and many important papers, speeches, etc. The war story is consecutive and very fascinating. The introductory chapters, leading up to the struggle, and the chapter on the reconstruction period, are by some of the first writers of the age.

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases can be cured, while others can not. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Professor Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard can consult him in private, and free of charge. After a thorough examination, which costs you nothing, we will tell you whether or not you may procure that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not all dead, we will treat you and guarantee the results or ask no pay. Call on or address Professor Birkholz, 1011 Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

ASSIST NATURE a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, and toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, biliousness, skin diseases, boils, carbuncles, piles, fistulas and maladies too numerous to mention.

If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequalled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

That Shaw

Will become the property of some popular young lady within the next four weeks. We do not dare to predict who will get it, but a "dark horse" is talked of and the ballots will come in with a rush within the next three weeks, therefore those interested want to redouble their energies so that their particular favorite will not be behind in this popular contest.

A Word About the Shaw Piano

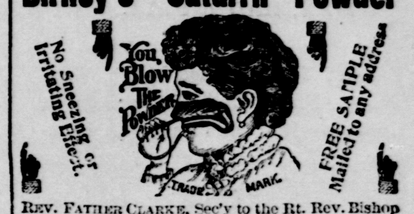

The first pianos made by the company were placed on the market less than five years ago. Instantly the trade recognized their merits and put in bids for territory until at this time these instruments can be seen almost everywhere. To be able to build such a good business in so short a time there must be great policy behind the house. The policy of the Shaw Piano Company, is first to build a good instrument, second, to advertise it largely and artistically. The first part of the policy, to build a good instrument, is amply testified to by the favor they have met with both from dealer and artist. The Shaw Piano is strictly a high grade first-class instrument, one that the purchasing public can have every confidence in. Messrs. S. C. Burnham & Co., of our city have for years been representing other first-class pianos but have been won by the construction, tone and quality of of this new aspirant for honors so that today they are bending all their energies in favor of the Matchless Shaw, as it is termed. With no remorse of conscience they claim it is the finest musical instrument in the piano line they have ever represented.

Judgiug from the above account of this wonderful piano is it any wonder that the contest now going on is attracting universal attention. Rally round your favorite lady, boys. See that she becomes the happy possessor of a SHAW.

A WOUNDED AMAZON.

Standing apart in dumb, deep agony,
With none of all her warring sisters near,
With none to help her or console her here,
She pays the price of those who would be free.

Hast thou, who in thy proud virginity,
A maid to cope with heroes didst not fear,
Found that such glory might be bought too dear
When one, who should have shielded, wounded thee?

Yet, gazing on thee where thou standest now,
He whom no amazonian arms could quell
Before thine unarmed womanhood would bow.

Until your lifted eyes should re-engage
The strife of which our latest stories tell
That he and thou forevermore must wage.

WAS HE A COWARD?

"Oh, Cousin George," said Mrs. Flitters as they walked into the house from the garden, "I do wish Harry were not such a coward."

"Are you quite sure that your husband is one?"

"Well, last night I thought I heard burglars in the house, and do you know I positively believe he was afraid to go down stairs."

"Didn't he go?"

"No; he insisted that it was only the cat and refused to get up."

"And did it happen to be thieves, after all?"

"Oh, no. As a matter of fact, it was the cat, as he suggested. But I think it would have been more manly if he had gone, don't you?"

"Perhaps as he was convinced that it was the cat it was not necessary."

"Still I admire pluck in a man, and I shan't have nearly so much confidence in Harry's bravery as I once had. Now, I want you to do me a great favor. Will you promise?"

"Anything in reason, my dear Kate."

"Well, I want you to play the burglar tonight. I will give you the key to the back door, and you must come in between 1 and 2 o'clock and put the lower part of the house in disorder, just as if thieves had broken in and ransacked the place."

"But suppose Harry hears me?"

"I shall, of course, see that he does. But I am sure we shall find that he will be afraid to stir out of his room."

"Yet, if you should be mistaken, it would be rather awkward for me. He is a powerful man."

"I assure you it is perfectly safe, George. If Harry shows any disposition to go down stairs, I have only to insist on his staying to protect me, and he is certain to allow himself to be persuaded."

"Might he not fire at me out of the window?"

"There isn't such a thing as a revolver or a gun in the house."

"Very well, Kate, I will do as you wish, but you must not blame me if anything goes wrong."

"Oh, it's so good of you, George. We shall just see what Harry is made of. It will be such fun too. By the way, Harry ought to be home before now. Let us stroll down the road to meet him." As they passed out of the house Harry Flitters rose from the high backed chair at the other end of the room, where he was dozing when they first entered and from which place of concealment he had heard, with great amusement—for he was a very good natured man—the whole conversation.

"A pretty little plot, Mrs. Flitters!" he said to himself, with a laugh. "It will, as you say, be 'such fun!'"

* * * * * *

"Harry! Harry!"

"Ye-yes, dear. What is it?"

"I am sure there's a burglar in the house."

"Listen! Yes, by Jove, you're right this time. Keep quiet while I put something on. I'll make it hot for him."

"Harry, I believe there are at least three of them!"

"As long as they don't exceed that number I don't mind."

"But, Harry, they are sure to be well armed!"

"I must take my chance about that."

Mr. Flitters was now moving toward the door, and his wife realized that he "meant business."

"You mustn't endanger your life, Harry! Harry, I insist on your not going. You will not desert your wife in the hour of danger! Come back, Harry!"

But he had slipped out of the room and closed the bedroom door, turning the key on the outside, where he had placed it a few hours before.

Mrs. Flitters rattled the handle of the door and shrieked to her husband to come back. But there was determination in his eye, and he went boldly forward to meet the enemy.

Soon there was the most terrible uproar in the kitchen, and the night air was made hideous with the sound of the smashing of china and glass, of the shouting of men's voices and of the breaking of chairs and tables.

Mrs. Flitters stood in her room terrified and horror stricken. They would kill one another! Why had she been so foolish?

"It's all over, Kate. Strike a light. Let me wash off some of the stains of the battle."

"Oh, Harry, what has happened!"

"A good deal, I am afraid, during the last 10 minutes."

"Good heavens, there's blood on your hands!"

"Yes, it has been distributed pretty freely down stairs. The painters and paper hangers had better come in tomorrow. We shall be prosecuted for keeping unlicensed shambles."

"It was only one man?"

"That is all, but he got the share of three."

"Could you see what he was like, Harry?"

"No, but I can imagine what he resembles at the present moment."

"But, Harry, dear, is he badly hurt? I am so frightened."

"Well, I think they'll pull him through when he gets to the hospital."

"I hope you haven't permanently injured him."

"I think not, but I have permanently instructed him in the wisdom of keeping his hands off other people's property. I sprang on him like a tiger, and before he could utter a word he had been all over the kitchen—under the table, into the grate, among the pots and kettles beneath the dresser—everywhere! He ought to know his way around next time. As for the crockery, I don't believe there is a whole piece left. We adjourned to the scullery, where I cleaned the sink with him and kicked him out of the door through the glass window of the conservatory."

"Oh, Harry! How could you be so cruel? I think you are a brute!"

"Well, if that isn't rich! The other day you called me a coward for not going down stairs in the middle of the night to kick the cat. Now I am a brute for attacking a burglar empty handed!"

"I certainly think you ought to have asked him who he was and what he was doing there and to have given him an opportunity of explaining."

"Fiddlesticks! While I was waiting for his visiting card he might have brained me. One really cannot waste courtesy on a burglar."

"I wish now that I had not awakened you."

"So probably does he!"

DEAR KATE—You say in your letter that you are sorry I did not see you before I came away. I must say that I do not think the interview would have been pleasant to either of us. I consider you have, for some reason best known to yourself, played me a mean and contemptible trick. I do not accuse you of plotting the whole affair with that murderous husband of yours, but I cannot help thinking that you must have known what a dangerous man he is. No doubt you got some fun or satisfaction out of the business, though what I cannot for the life of me think. I am certainly quite ignorant of having done anything to earn this revenge of yours. That man behaved like a perfect fiend. He did with me just as he liked, and in what he liked he was not very particular. I was in bed for a week, hardly able to see out of my eyes or move a limb. I am also covered with scars. I may not return to England for some years, and when I do I am not likely, if in my present mood, to renew my acquaintance with my cousin Kate Flitters and her amiable husband. If you take my advice, you will not enlighten Mr. Flitters as to the facts of that discreditable affair. Yours faithfully,

GEORGE CHALFONT.

Kate took her cousin's advice and believes to this day that her husband is absolutely ignorant of the disastrous burglary plot. She thinks he is the bravest man in the world, while he laughs up his sleeve and is happy.—London Tit-Bits.

Luther's Wife.

Believing that "a good wife is of the Lord," Martin Luther chose a good woman—Catherine de Bora—a lady of noble birth, a nun, and, if we may credit Holbein's portrait, a very pretty woman. Better still, she was a faithful and affectionate wife, though her temper was not the sweetest and her tongue at times could scold. Luther loved her dearly. With him indeed reverence for woman was at once a natural instinct and a point of doctrine. He observed that when the first woman was brought to the first man to receive her name he called her not wife, but mother—"Eve, the mother of all living"—a word, he says, "more eloquent than ever fell from the lips of Demosthenes." So when Catherine frowned he smiled, when she scolded he bantered. With the gentlest soothing he chided her anxieties, and with the most self denying devotion he sought to make her life happy. And a happier home, it is said, than the home of Luther was not in that land of domestic tenderness. In one of his letters to his wife he says: "The greatest favor of God is to have a good and pious husband, to whom you can intrust your all—your person and even your life—whose children and yours are the same. Catherine, you have a pious husband, who loves you. You are an empress. Thank God for it." And more playfully he says another time: "If I were going to make love again, I would carve an obedient woman out of marble in despair of finding one in any other way." He addresses her sometimes as "My Love Catherine," "Catherine the Queen," the "Empress," the "Doctress," or as "Catherine, the rich and noble lady of Zeilsdorf," where they had a cottage and a few roods of ground. —Quiver.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES

The Freiland African Colony.

Another attempt to solve the great social problem will soon be under way in eastern central Africa. It is to be a communistic colony of the sort advocated by Dr. Theodor Hertzka, a distinguished Austrian political economist, in his book "Freiland," from which the new settlement takes its name. The colony is to be located in Machakoland, a district which is said to be very fertile. A party of 15 men is now on the way thither to select the site for the settlement and make preparations for the larger party of 40 or 50 persons which will sail from Hamburg later.
